

ONE GLASS

Citrix . RDS . VMware . Hyper-V

Complex is so yesterday!

MoveIT OneGlass brings Citrix, Microsoft Hyper-V, Microsoft RDS, and VMware together in one consistent environment: on one console.

Application publishing and migrations

Publish your applications using a drag & drop function, migrate seamlessly between Citrix and RDS, as well as between VMware and Hyper-V. Minimize time consuming migrations and automate your administration during operation.

With MoveIT OneGlass...

you will achieve a consistent and uniform integration of Citrix, Hyper-V, RDS, and VMware in your environment. At the same time, MoveIT OneGlass significantly reduces administration and migration costs. MoveIT OneGlass is so easy to operate that it requires no specialized expertise, and it can be integrated into 1st level support.

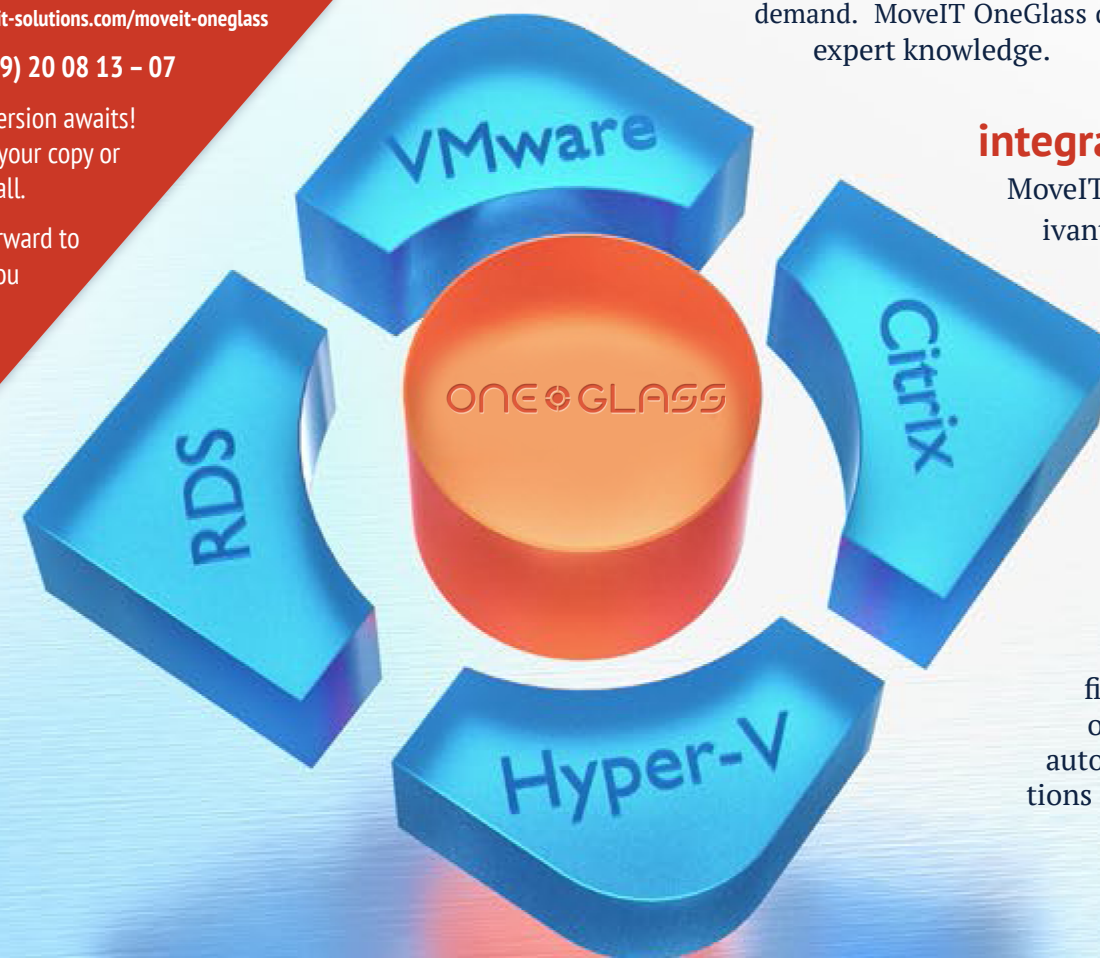

Easy, fast: integrated and flexible publishing, administration, and expansion.

Easy

Seamlessly move published application shortcuts via a drag & drop function. Create virtual servers with the push of a button, on demand. MoveIT OneGlass does not require expert knowledge.

fast:

Our quick implementation (usually just one day) delivers immediate results – no more time consuming migrations. Complex internal coordination is ... a thing of the past.

integrated

MoveIT OneGlass integrates Citrix, Hyper-V, RDS, and VMware with Ivanti DSM and SCCM in one console. Specifically, the automated provisioning of new servers with immediate integration of users following installation.

and flexible

The MoveIT OneGlass system can be expanded to meet your changing needs and requirements.

publishing

With MoveIT OneGlass, you have the option of creating configuration files for applications using the drag & drop function, or you can have MoveIT OneGlass select the configuration files automatically from an existing farm. You can use these configurations consistently across several environments. You can also secure them and restore them at any time – across platforms.

administration

A uniform and well-organized console for the entire environment.

and expansion.

MoveIT OneGlass is a modular system that can be expanded to meet your growing requirements.

“We automate IT”

MoveIT has provided a broad range of services for all aspects of system management since 1998. Our customers range from small companies to mid-sized and large corporations. Our efficient team steps in wherever there is a need for system management expertise.

The key to successful projects? Experience -- competence -- a passion for creating the right solution.

Our solutions simplify daily tasks, reduce duplication of effort, and automate the operation and administration of entire IT environments.

We welcome challenges: even those that seem insurmountable.
